Grocery Shopping for a Special Dinner

Cynthia Denise wanted to make a delicious dinner to celebrate her husband's new job. She had a few ideas about what to cook, but she needed some inspiration, so she headed to the grocery store.

As she walked into the store, Cynthia Denise grabbed a shopping cart and took a quick look at her list. She'd planned to make a three-course meal: a salad, a main dish, and a dessert.

For the main course, Cynthia Denise decided on

Next, she needed some ingredients for

To add some protein to the dish, she chose

For dessert, Cynthia Denise decided on a classic:

With her cart full of fresh ingredients, Cynthia Denise headed to the checkout counter, feeling excited about preparing the meal. Once she got home, she began prepping the ingredients, imagining how everything would come together for a perfect evening with her husband.
